Obituary - Mrs. Harris.

It was with the deepest grief that her many friends in Rockingham and elsewhere heard of the sudden death at Goldston on October 12th of Mrs. Beulah Culbertson Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Culbertson, of Entwistle, and wife of Meador W. Harris, of Goldston. Beulah Culbertson, as we knew her, scattered gladness and sunshine everywhere she went and when the light of her life went out, for the time being, before she had completed her thirtieth year, darkness came not only to the two homes where these years had been spent and to the making of which she had contributed so much, but to many others that had been blessed by her presence. The taking away of a young woman under such circumstances is one of the mysteries of life that we do not at all understand, and doubtless never shall, until we know even as we are known. Now we see through a glass darkly but then face to face. All that is now hard to understand shall be made clear in yon heavenly land. This good woman grew up in the atmosphere of a Christian home and hardly knew what it was to be outside of the church. However she united visibly with the Methodist Church when a very small girl and lived within its communion and walked in its ordinances with great acceptance until her walking days were over. This writer was her pastor for one brief year and he bears glad testimony to the purity and brightness of her life and to her valued help in every thing that looked toward the welfare of God's Zion. And now her Maker having called her pure Spirit unto Himself, we are sure that it is well with her—but oh! the desolateness of those hearts and homes that remain.

A Good Woman Gone.

It has been said that no grander tribute was ever paid a person than "He was a good man" or "She was a good woman." Such a tribute a whole section of country in upper Richmond county comes to pay to Mrs. Duncan Cole—better known as "Aunt Margaret," who was translated to her heavenly home, Oct. 17th, 1918.

A whole life of seventy years was given to God. No one knows when she became a Christian—so far back does the time date. And it was no mere surface Christianity, but a Christianity that became the great motive power of life. Till age and infirmity of body "shut her in" she was active in every service of the church. No one will forget the power of her Christian life, as it found its way to the hearts of the people, while she carried on the Sunday School work at Capel's Mill many years ago. She loved God and she led the people to Him. But October the 17th was a "wonderful day" to (Aunt) Margaret. The light was breaking upon her from that beautiful land "Where the Sun never sets" and the "flowers never fade." She asked that they pray, and then she prayed. Oh what a prayer! Heaven and earth touched! The work of earth was done, the arms gently folded and a saint lay back in the arms of God. The body is laid to rest in the family burying ground, now covering the place where the house stood, in which she was born seventy-five years ago. We pray that God may comfort the husband, children, grand-children, and many friends who are made sad by her going. We shall meet again.

In Memoriam—Geo. Phillips.

On the beautiful sabbath day of Oct. 6th, 1918, the noble spirit of George Gladstone Phillips passed from this world of war, sickness, sin and woe, into the yonderland, there to rest with the scores of other noble heroes who have given their lives for their country.

George Phillips was born April 18th, 1894, and most of his childhood days were spent in Rockingham where among friends and relatives his remains were laid to rest in Eastside cemetery Oct. 8th, 1918.

He had heroically underwent two operations for ulcer of the stomach. He suddenly took pneumonia from which he died.

George was an expert telegrapher and had worked with the S. A. L. for three years. But several months ago he enlisted in the Navy and was sent to the Naval Training School at Charleston, S. C., July 22nd and a few weeks later transferred to the Radio branch there. In a letter to the Post-Dispatch a few weeks ago he spoke of hearing messages from Berlin and other points across the ocean. Our friend has made the supreme sacrifice; he has given his all, his own life that freedom might remain the choicest possession of the people of the earth. And we shed tears of loving kindness and tender mercy to the bereaved and to the distressed and to point to the stars in the crown our friend shall wear if all was well with his soul. He has builded for himself a monument more enduring than stately stone and more beautiful than pure marble. He is a hero in the hearts and minds of his countrymen. And too much cannot be said or done to magnify his worth. It was with the blood of a true patriot and a liberty loving freeman coursing through his veins that caused him to enlist in the navy because he knew that Navy life meant untold hardships, great privations and great sacrifices, yet he did not stop to consider the matter, but boldly took the step that he might do his best for humanity, and that equal rights be for all and special privileges for none. In the death of George Phillips the state has lost a loyal citizen and his relatives a man true as steel. He leaves three sisters, Mary Belle and Eva Phillips and Mrs. J. R. Jenks, and four brothers Robert, Mack, Willie and Archie. His father died March 21st, 1911, and his mother June 15th, 1916, leaving to his tender care his two sisters, Mary Belle and Eva. He was a most devoted brother to them and did all in his power to their benefit; and to those two girls we extend our deepest sympathy, and earnestly pray that God's richest blessings may rest upon them and that His hand may guide them to the other shore where there they'll meet their brother, to part from him no more.
A Friend.

Stella-Vitae

THE GUARANTEED TONIC FOR WOMEN

Stella-Vitae has been in successful use in the treatment of those diseases peculiar to women for more than a third of a century.

For nearly ten years it has been sold under a plain, positive guarantee to benefit. Less than one bottle out of every one thousand sold has been refunded for, and every claim for a refund has been satisfied. Thousands of letters like this praising Stella-Vitae and telling of benefit to suffering women have been received.

Mrs. E. H. Russell, of Mill Springs, N. C., gratefully writes us as follows:

"I was in a most wretched condition; had palpitation of the heart and would swell and bloat in a most distressing way. When I began using Stella-Vitae I weighed 108 pounds. Now I weigh 135. I am more thankful than I can ever tell you for the great good this wonderful medicine has done me."

Mrs. Russell was at that critical period, the "change," and her sincere gratitude for the blessed relief will be understood and appreciated by every woman who reads her letter.

Stella-Vitae has proved a boon to suffering womanhood, to young girls approaching their first vital period, to women approaching the anguish of childbirth, to women approaching the "change of life." Stella-Vitae strengthens the female organs and promotes regularity in the monthly function.

No risk of loss is taken by any suffering woman who tries Stella-Vitae on our guarantee of the first bottle.

All dealers sell Stella-Vitae and will return your money if it does not benefit you. Don't put off a trial.
